Screen

OLIVER
"Way Down East" which is the picture attraction at the Oliver again today and tomorrow, is worked out with the same story-telling art, the imagination, sense of beauty and ingenuity of craftsmanship which have made Griffith's name a great one. The audience sits in rapture while watching the story unfold, and the effect is breath-taking. From the slow lift of the curtain, amid the plaintive strains of "Home, Sweet Home," to its fall after the most stupendous of climaxes, it is a story of human hearts, unfolded in mastery and understanding manner. No person should miss seeing "Way Down East" at least once. Many have seen it again and again.

OLIVER
The "black sheep" of many a family has been in reality its most lovable member. This is certainly true of the black sheep in the Wm. Fox production of "Over the Hill," which begins its week's engagement at the Oliver Monday matinee. This startling photoplay exposition of all human-kind's faults and virtues visualized with the living phototypes of Will Carleton's imaginative genius in his celebrated "Farm Ballads" is the most remarkable picture to reach the screen for many a day. It is a real film for all who like plenty of good old-fashioned sentiment mixed with brisk, wholesome comedy. Don't be a back number, see this picture that has set New York smoking from the Battery to the Bronx.

BLACKSTONE
Today will be the final showing of Priscilla Dean and Lon Chaney in "Outside the Law," at the Blackstone. With the O.K. of America's greatest detective on the story, many of the scenes filmed in the actual locality of San Francisco's slums, and an accurate reproduction of the bay city's Chinatown, "Outside the Law" offers an authentic picture of crime life in the western robed.

William J. Burns was present during the making of this production at Universal City. He examined the story with apparent interest and offered several suggestions, two of which were accepted by the author producer, after explaining the reason for the other scenes thoroughly to the detective. Mr. Burns also quotes Lon Chaney in some of the "holds" used by the denizens of the underworld. While in San Francisco during the making of this production, Lon Chaney dressed for his part, was waiting for the rest of the company to assemble at the Union Square in front of St. Francis hotel. He was sitting on the bench and attracted the attention of a diligent policeman, who was about to arrest him as a suspicious character. At first, Lon Chaney thought it was a put up job, but when he discovered that the officer was in earnest, he asked him to accompany him to the hotel across the way, where the clerk identified

CASTLE

Elliott Dexter in "The Witching Hour" is again the feature billing at the Castle. Without half the fuss and furor caused by the other stars, Dexter has won a wide following by the quiet charm of his art and his realistic style. In "The Witching Hour" he has an absorbing and manly melodrama which suits him exactly. Tomorrow the famous beauty, Arlene Ray, is to be shown in a melange of romance and adventure, "Honeymoon Riders."

Stage

ORPHEUM

Frederick V. Bowers, musical comedy star and song writer, is popularizing himself and his latest song creations on the present Orpheum vaudeville bill which is retained today and tomorrow. The staging of the act is particularly attractive, with a scenic background for each song and dance rendered. He has the able assistance of three beautiful girls, a charming elderly lady and an eccentric dancer. Finlay and Hill, offering vaudeville a-la-mode, and are cleverly assisted by an Italian singer known as "Hoozis." Other acts of merit on the same bill are McGrath and Deeds, Bronson and Edwards, the Two Sternards, and Doyle and Elaine.

IDLE 12 MONTHS IS BACK ON JOB

Ohio Man Lost a Year on Account of Stomach Trouble—Is Now Well and Strong.

"Only a man who has to work for a living knows what it means to get back on the job after not hitting a lick of work for a whole year. I lost twelve months' straight time on account of stomach trouble. One of the worst cases I guess any man ever had. Tanlac not only made me a well man again but built me up 19 pounds in weight. I am writing all my friends in other cities to tell them of the wonderful news."

The above statement was made by George B. Lowe, well-known employee of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., living at 451 McGowan St., Akron, Ohio.

Tanlac is sold in South Bend at the Central Drug Store and by all leading druggists.—Adv.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If you Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 50c.—Adv.

"Outside the Law"

The Picture Sensation of the Year.

Thumb-Nail Theme—The story of the daughter of a reformed crook, who forsakes the straight path when her father is "framed" by a former henchman and sent to prison. How she matches her wits against the minions of the law and the underworld; how the maternal instinct softens her soul and how her reformation is accomplished by the Confucian philosophy of a Chinese sage.

Jealous eyes watched! Tragedy followed—but even Death left the debt unpaid. A moving story of two worlds, made possible only by the remarkable inventions in modern photography.
